

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNED.

M. Bourgeois and His Colleagues
Leave the Chamber.

THE SENATE CRITICISED

No Right to Overthrow a Ministry or Be Sole Interpreter of the Constitution.

PARIS, April 22.—The Bourgeois Cabinet has resigned.

The resignation was announced by the Premier immediately upon the reconvening of the Senate at the conclusion of M. Bourgeois and his colleagues withdrew.

According to the newspapers here President Faure had declined to countersign the bill providing for the revision of the constitution, which the Premier, M. Bourgeois, wished to submit to the Chamber of Deputies when that body reassembles to-day as a result of the special summons following the action of the Senate in postponing the vote on the Madagascar credits.

In view of the President's refusal to sign this bill, members of the Radical left party have decided to introduce a motion denying the Senate the right to be the sole interpreter of the constitution, and demanding that a meeting of the National Assembly be called to decide questions in dispute.

M. Bourgeois in announcing the resignation of the Ministry read a statement contesting the right of the Senate to overthrow a Ministry or to be the sole interpreter of the constitution, but he added, in view of the impossibility of securing proper military relief for Madagascar, the cabinet was compelled to resign.

BULUWAYO ISOLATED.

Telegraphic Communication With the Town Is Cut Off.

CAPE TOWN, April 22.—Telegraphic communication with Buluwayo has been cut off at Fig Tree, a small place near Mangwe, southwest of Buluwayo, and in view of the serious condition of affairs, it causes considerable anxiety. A repairing and scouting squad has been sent out from Mangwe in the direction of Fig Tree. There was no change in the situation when Buluwayo was last heard from, and it is hoped that the break may be due to an accident or simply be the work of a marauding band of Matabels.

TROOPS FOR AFRICA.

British Soldiers Ordered to Hold Themselves in Readiness.

LONDON, April 22.—Detachments of the King's Royal Rifles, stationed at Dover, and the Irish Rifles, quartered at Brighton, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed immediately to South Africa.

ENGLAND'S TROUBLES.

Chamberlain Talks About Them and Criticizes Rosebery.

LONDON, April 22.—Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, made a speech at the Constitutional Club last night in which he said that the whole policy of Lord Rosebery, the late Liberal Premier, was a long record of unbroken failure. He said he was not a successor's efforts to preserve the peace and maintain the honor and interests of the Empire.

With reference to the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain declared that there were two governing factors in the situation in South Africa. The first was that England must continue to be the paramount power and would at all risks and costs resist any foreign interference. The second was that, owing to the peculiar situation that the Dutch were likely for many years to be in the majority, it was the duty of statesmen to do their utmost to maintain the friendship between the English and Dutch.

The Matabels rising, he pointed out, was quite a separate affair. The Government was alive to its gravity, but believed that the local forces would be able to suppress it, and therefore did not intend, unless in an unexpected emergency, to send a large

GEN. WEYLER'S GEOMETRIC PLAN.

An Ass' Bridge Which Macao
Cannot Cross.

CAPTAIN-GENERAL'S Q. E. D.

He Says the Cuban Leader Knows He's Trapped and Will Take to the Water.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A local paper has the following cable from Havana: General Weyler is staking all on the present military movement. He is opposing the guerrilla warfare by an almost geometric plan.

I saw the Captain-General at the Palace this afternoon. Trembling women seeking pardon for prisoners entered General Weyler's room one after another while I waited—mothers, sisters, wives, daughters. It was a painful scene. Cuba is shedding tears of blood to-day. When I entered the General's room a feeble old Cuban woman tottered out with tears in her eyes. The grim commander spoke to me in short, sharp sentences.

"The campaign is going magnificently for the Spanish arms," he said. "We were never in a better position. The war will soon be victoriously ended in eight or nine months at the most."

"How about Macao?" I asked. "Will he cross the Trocha?"

"No, Senor," answered General Weyler. "Macao will never cross the Trocha except as a prisoner. The day he attacks the Trocha he will fall or be captured. It is entirely impossible for him to come eastward. I have a strong force on the whole line and have also a large army of troops between Macao's position in the northern mountains and the Trocha."

"But I said, 'Jose Macao is on the east side of the barrier. Suppose the two brothers should attack the line from different sides at different points on the same day?'"

"Ah," replied Gen. Weyler. "I have a strong force on this side which keeps Jose Macao's men divided into small bands and their aimless maneuvering such a nuisance that they don't propose to attempt to cross the Trocha."

"Why do you not attempt to force Macao to a decisive battle now?"

"Macao will not stand and fight," the General answered. "I have several independent regiments which keep him moving about in the hills."

"But can you not surround him? He is apparently confined to a small district."

"Well," explained Gen. Weyler, "that would simply mean chasing Macao through the whole province. I don't propose to have my main force drawn forward from the Trocha. I want the insurgents to attack the line."

"When do you look for an attempt to force the Trocha?"

"Never," said Gen. Weyler. "My opinion is that Macao knows he is in a trap at last, and that he will abandon his attempts to escape from Cuba by water."

"You say the war will be brought to an end soon. How do you expect it to end?"

"As soon as the insurgents see that their cause is lost, and that they will be completely broken. Then I will offer amnesty, but not before."

"Intend to proclaim a general amnesty?"

"Yes, but not now. There must be more fighting. The insurgents must be completely broken. Then I will offer amnesty, but not before."

JOHN SCOTT DROPS DEAD.

A Well-Known Saloonkeeper's Sudden Death on the Street.

John Scott, an old and well-known saloon man, dropped dead at Twenty-second and St. Charles streets at 10 o'clock a. m. He was in his usual health, apparently, not ten minutes before his death. He had just stepped from the Glass & Lebeche establishment at Twenty-second and Washington avenues, and started south on Twenty-second street. He had walked one block down when he was seen to falter, throw up his hands and fall forward on his face. A teamster, saw him fall, but before he could get to him Scott was dead. The body was sent to the morgue. Scott weighed about 300 pounds. He was about 55 years old and lived with his wife at 114 and 116 North Third street. He began his career in St. Louis forty years ago as waiter in the famous Capital Oyster saloon. Later he entered the saloon business and twenty years ago he and Frank Gregory conducted three of the finest bars in St. Louis. He afterward ran the Winter Garden on Fourth street. For the last three years he had conducted a saloon at 117 North Third street, but sold out two weeks ago. He was preparing to resume business at 118 North Third street when he died.

He lost a great deal of money by the failure of men he established in business to pay what he advanced, and his estate is not a large one.

DESERTERS FROM THE DEMOCRACY.

Goldbug Factionists Refuse to Discuss Their Intended Bolt.

CHAOS WHAT THEY DESIRE.

Chief Autocrat of the Strangers Declines to Comment on the Utterances of Secretary Lockwood.

Are the goldbug Democrats going to bolt the Chicago convention or is George R. Lockwood talking through his new Easter bonnet?

It seems to be a toss up. Some of the advocates of alleged sound money say that if Lockwood means what he says he's foolish—just the kind of a man in fact that's apt to fall down and walk over himself.

Mr. Lockwood says that "conscience and patriotism should rise superior to party." A Post-Dispatch reporter took his life in his hands and paid a visit to the sanctum of Chief Factionist Francis to find out whether it was true that he was preparing to drop into the misty political no-man's-land.

The reporter got no further than the outer entrance to the Holy of Holies, where he was told that Mr. Francis was not in. It was further intimated that if he were in he wouldn't talk to a Post-Dispatch reporter on any subject.

An effort to see Mr. Maffitt was equally unsuccessful. The Chief Factionist has put himself on record, though, on the bolting question. When he was asked to make a statement telling the Central Committee what they should do and how they should do it, he defined his position.

He said that he and fellow factionists didn't want to bolt, and wouldn't vote anything but the Democratic ticket. C. C. Maffitt made the same kind of a talk up at Secular's last night.

Whatever happens Mr. Lockwood has stated that members of the Sound Currency Club wouldn't vote for a silver man under any consideration.

Not even if the silver man should promise to remove the street to St. Louis. Most of the members of the club refuse to make any statement as to their intentions. They refuse to deny that they intend to bolt and they decline flatly to say that they will support the Democratic platform for gold or silver.

Leverett M. Bell says that Mr. Lockwood's statement was a trifle broad. "As far as I am concerned," he said, "the remarks of Mr. Lockwood are not accurate. I am a Democrat and will support the party nominee whether he be Mr. Bland or anyone else."

"I don't think the club as such will bolt, though some members may. I have not heard that anyone has any intentions."

W. H. Lee of the Merchants' League Bank, who joined the Republicans some time ago, but who has recently been suspected of being a goldbug Democrat, like his brothers, was seen.

When asked whether in his opinion the gold Democrats would bolt, he said: "I'd like to talk to you, but I never have anything to say to the Post-Dispatch. When he proceeded to sign checks faster than some people can spend greenbacks. The reporter left Mr. Lee he hurriedly crossed the street to the office of his brother, Arthur and John F. Lee, presumably to notify them that there was a Post-Dispatch man in the neighborhood.

At any rate he came to the Post-Dispatch man in the neighborhood. Immediately and told the reporter, who was just entering the building, that there was no use going upstairs, as his brothers were out. Sure enough the reporter got only as far as the outer office as the stenographer said the Messrs. Lee were out.

From all of which it would appear that the Lee brothers are not anxious to express themselves as to their alleged intention to bolt.

It was Arthur Lee who made so affecting an appeal for party unity at the Central Committee meeting. Goldbug Democrats outside the Sound Currency Club say that they're not going to bolt.

Postmaster Carlisle said: "I am a Democrat, and will vote for the adoption of a single sweet potato standing in the way of any other man. I don't know of any free all-writer I'd care to write for the Post-Dispatch."

And there are others who think like Mr. Carlisle. They are scarce in the Sound Currency Club, however.

"DE OLE MAN" INDORSED.

Republican Protestors Rebuked by the Merchants' League Club.

Uncle Philley's Merchants' League Club, at a largely attended meeting Wednesday night, gave him a big boost and served notice on Messrs. Kereen, Noble, Starnard and others who signed that new famous "protest" that they must stand aside and let "De Ole Man" run the party to suit him.

A stinging rebuke was administered to the protesters in a series of resolutions that the club could not adopt, declaring that the club could not stand in the way of any derogatory to the interests of the party or any member thereof. The resolutions were adopted by a vote of 10 to 2. The City Central Committee's action, but on the contrary, the club will support the Democratic platform and will not support the Republican platform, if that comes from using Democratic language and heelers to overcome honest voters and stifle Republican sentiment in the primaries to be held April 28.

President Talty appointed the following committee to look after the interest of the Republican candidate in the Tenth District School Board election May 5: F. B. Brownell, Henry Ziegenhein, L. W. Wall, John H. Pohlman, Seiden, P. Spencer, Ford Smith and Chas. F. Wennerke.

THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Net a Mayoralty Plot but a Conference of Bicyclists.

For some days past the employees of the Street Department have been guessing at the meaning of the mysterious conferences which have been held in the Commissioner's office behind closed doors.

Those who attended the meeting always left as quietly as they went, and wore an air of mystery and importance which could mean nothing short of the launching of a mayoralty candidate or something equally as good.

One of the main figures in these meetings was Commodore Stone of the Harbor Office, but he was silent as the grave concerning what was transpiring.

The whole mystery has been solved by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

The heads of departments who ride bicycles were merely formulating a descent upon President McMath of the Board of Public Improvements to have him alter the same fashion that the land wheel is used, top and four and one-half feet wide on the beam, weighing 70 pounds, is more than half submerged in the water.

Putnam et al., of Pennsylvania, against the Jacksonville, Louisville & St. Louis Railway, granted a decree for the foreclosure of a mortgage for $172,500, and entered an order for the sale of the road to pay the same. The road will be sold at public auction at 10 o'clock on Monday next at Jacksonville.

GROVER CLEVELAND, JR.
Once More the President Has Great Expectations.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—November is likely to be a month fraught with unusual interest to the President and Mrs. Cleveland. There is a likelihood that when the autumn breeze begin to blow about the Gray Gables a return will be made to the White House somewhat earlier than would have been the case had the President not returned, when they are pouring in over the White House wires, may be read not only to the President himself, but to the Grover, Jr. This is, at least, what it is hoped will be the case.

This interesting rumor has been current for some time past, but it was only today that the word was made to be authority in the matter have announced that in November President Cleveland will be looking for bulletins from the White House nursery.

IN A FAIR WAY TO BE SETTLED.

The Litigation Over the Estate of Isaac Walker.

BEEN RUNNING MANY YEARS.

Final Suit Against Administrator John G. Priest Ready to Go to the Supreme Court.

Litigation that has been pending in the Probate Court for twenty-seven years is about to be disposed of. It commenced with the death of Isaac Walker in 1868. Walker was a wealthy resident of St. Louis. He left a vast amount of real estate, also a large assortment of debts.

After his will was admitted to probate litigation commenced. It has been going on ever since.

The last litigation arose over the administration of the estate by John G. Priest, who succeeded the executor of the will. It is this which is about to be disposed of by Judge Leo Rasseus of the Probate Court.

Thirteen years ago Judge Gabriel Woerner, then of the Probate Court, characterized the case as a "Jury case." It was then that the litigation was referred to the Supreme Court.

All outside suits against the estate have been disposed of and the matter has narrowed down to the dispute between John G. Priest and some of the heirs. Mr. Priest charges the administrator seeks to include in his final settlement. Briefs have been filed by the heirs and the administrator. Judge Rasseus has had the matter under advisement for some time. He says he expects to render an opinion at the opening of the next term of the Probate Court in June.

"I shall try to include in the opinion," said Judge Rasseus, "a statement of the facts in the case that if it is taken to the Supreme Court that tribunal will not be remanded to the Probate Court if it reverses my decision. In this way the matter will be speedily disposed of."

Eight children survived Isaac Walker. They were Thomas A. Walker of St. Louis and Mrs. Bull, Mrs. Ann E. Walker, all of New York. The children of Mrs. Nevins and Mrs. Bull survived. The children of Mrs. Bull and Mrs. Ann E. Walker are among the present heirs.

STIPULATIONS AGREED UPON.

Joint Committee of the Century and St. Louis Clubs Act.

THEY WILL RACE FOR $200.

All Doubts Were Dispelled at a Meeting
Held Thursday Night—
General Sporting News.

At a meeting of the road race committee representing the St. Louis Cycling Club and the Century Road Club of St. Louis, held at the St. Louis Cycling Club Wednesday night, it was finally settled that the two clubs mentioned should meet in a road race on or about June 15.

The sum of $200 a side was decided upon as a proper amount to purchase a suitable trophy. The terms, distance and other conditions were also agreed upon.

The only matter connected with the affair left undecided was the date and location of the race. That these important matters were not fixed was due to the fact that a suitable track for the race has not yet been decided upon. Both clubs want the Forest Park road, but as the Forest Park road race will be held on June 9, they are doubtful about getting permission to ride in the race on two successive Saturdays. It was rumored that in event the permission of the Park Commissioner could not be secured the race would take place in the Fair Grounds. If satisfactory arrangements cannot be made with Secretary Aul of the Park Association, it will be brought on in Pike County.

The following articles of agreement were signed by the members of both committees last night:

We, the undersigned members of the committees representing the Century Road Club and the St. Louis Cycling Club, do hereby agree and agree to the following conditions for the twenty-mile inter-club road race to be held on a date to be set hereafter by the joint committee of both clubs:

1. That the challenge issued Nov. 21, 1895, by the Century Road Club to the St. Louis Cycling Club has been accepted by the latter club. Same race to be held under the following conditions:

2. That the actual contestants shall consist of ten men from each club in good standing prior to Jan. 1, 1896. The team must be named by the Century Road Club and selected from a list of twenty members to be submitted two weeks prior to said race.

3. The course shall be mutually agreed upon by May 1, 1896, and distance of same to be twenty miles.

4. The race shall be for $200 a side, the winning club to purchase a suitable prize. The net gate receipts (if any) to be divided on a basis of 75 per cent to the winning club and 25 per cent to the losing club.

5. A forfeit of $50 shall be deposited by each club with Robert Holm, secretary of the Associated Cycling Clubs, by Saturday, April 25, 1896. Failure to do so to be forfeit of the race.

6. Any contestant accepting outside prize or aid shall be disqualified and no credit given in final score.

7. The race shall be held on a date to be set hereafter by the joint committee of both clubs.

8. The race shall be held on a date to be set hereafter by the joint committee of both clubs.

RESCUER SACHTELEBEN.

He Could Not Bring Lens Back, but He Brought a Substitute.

William L. Sachteleben, the St. Louis wheelman who has been in Armenia for the past fourteen months for the purpose of securing proofs of the death of Frank Lens, arrived in New York last Saturday on his way home. He is expected to arrive in St. Louis in a day or two. He is a young man, advanced age in the person of Miriam M. Sieganian, a young Armenian, who showed up at Canfield & Sachteleben's store, 211 North Seventh street, with a letter of introduction.

For eleven months before he left Armenia, Sachteleben made his headquarters at Erzerum. Near that place one day he witnessed the hasty burial of some Armenian who had been murdered by the Turks. Among the men who were engaged in performing this last office for the dead was young Sieganian, of whose relatives several were in the ghastly group. An acquaintance was formed, which ripened into friendship. Sieganian is the son of a distinguished Armenian who spent six years in the United States studying for the ministry. Then he returned to labor among his own people. Several months ago he was shot by order of the Turkish Government because he refused to sign a declaration concerning the administration from blame for the Armenian massacres.

Sachteleben became deeply interested in young Sieganian and resolved to save his life, which was in imminent danger, by bringing him to America. This was accomplished only by strategy. February 21, 1895, he left Erzerum, Sachteleben representing himself as an English Consul passing his comrade off as his servant. By this means Sachteleben was able to get him out of Turkish dominions. The rest of the journey was made without incident.

To a Foreign Dispensation Sachteleben expressed the determination to live in this country hereafter. His ambition is to earn money enough to bring his mother, brother and little sister over, they having been reduced from affluence to poverty by the persecutions of the Turks. He managed to bring with him a number of his native relations, and he has secured employment at the store of Canfield & Sachteleben. He is well educated and is learning English rapidly.

Sachteleben tarried at Pittsburgh, where he will receive a letter from the city being the home of Lens. When he gets home he will settle down to his business, and he is very popular there, that city being the home of Lens. Horses Are Arriving in St. Louis Daily——Experiment With the Gate.

About 250 horses are now stabled at the Fair Grounds and fresh arrivals increase the number daily. Thursday the Charter Oak stable and Lou Cahrs' string put in appearance, coming from Memphis. Both lots make twenty head and include such well known breeders as J. Lind, Sumo, Panjandrum and Utopia. A number of letters were received by the Fair Grounds from owners now at Newport, San Francisco and other tracks requesting that stable room be reserved for them. All will be accommodated.

When the program for the first thirty-day season was issued Wednesday, it reaches the horsemen a still greater influx may be expected. While other racing associations are hard up for $200 and $300 purses, the Fair Association is offering none less than $400 purses every day. This liberality insures an excellent class of horses.

The starting gate will be given a trial at the Fair Grounds in the near future. It is desirable to experiment with several machines with a view to deciding which is the best. John Hickey, Cal. March 3, 1896, the Fair Association is offering none less than $400 purses every day. This liberality insures an excellent class of horses.

South Side Park will throw its gates open to the racing public to-night. A good card has been secured for the opening. In order to whom the entrance is free, the gate will be charged to-night. With two outworn night tracks in full blast local racing will be decidedly lively this summer.

CARNATIONS AND LILAC RIBBONS.

Nature's Sweetest Contributions
Upon Society's Shrine.

HIGH TEAS AND DINNERS.

The Round of Social Functions Goes Merrily On, to the Delight of Fashion's Devotees.

One of the most charming of fashionable fads is the lavish use of flowers in their season for decorative purposes, and in the spring it is all the more charming because there are so many flowers to choose from and all of them are so fragrant that the delightful odors reach one before entering the door.

For six weeks there were violet lunches and teas, with the modest little spring blossoms and lilac ribbons as the distinguishing features. Along with them came the yellow jonquils and ferns, then the Easter lilies of the valley. These grand bouquets of tulips or hyacinths banked the mantel pieces or blossomed in miniature plant upon the table, and carnations scattered upon the cloth; and now comes the fragrant lilacs. By May day they will be in the perfection of bloom.

Monday Mrs. William Duncan gave a charming dinner party congratulatory to her niece, Mrs. Henry Meier, and her husband, who left Wednesday for New York, en route for Europe. The table was decorated with lilac ribbons and vases of sweet flowers. Covers were laid for twelve.

One of the pleasant functions of the week was the tea given by Mrs. O'Fallon to her lady friends. Her home was decked with spring flowers and she was assisted by her daughter, Miss O'Fallon. The dinner party given by Miss Jones Huse complimentary to Miss Ella Cochran, prior to her departure for Europe, was a very pretty affair. Only young ladies were invited, and the decorations were suggestive of the sea voyage.

Robinson, and was gown in steel-gray satin, elaborately trimmed with lace, and a combination of steel and gray tulle. After-ward musical and literary features followed, in which Mesdames Bethel and Dicke and the Mesdames Thiele, Hortense Jones, Jennie Robinson, Retta Woods and Edna Geylman, the latter of Belleville, took part. The parlors were elaborately decorated in American Beauty roses.

ETHICS UNDER DISCUSSION.

United States. Among the prominent delegates and guests were the following: From Chicago: Miss Winifred M. McGowan, Miss Junia Stafford, Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, T. W. Allison, Mrs. J. M. Smith, President of the Fortnightly Club of Chicago; Mrs. Lydia Avery Coonley, President of the Chicago Woman's Club; From Milwaukee: Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hostwick; Mrs. George Gordon, Miss Lina Hostwick; From Philadelphia: Mrs. Burns Weston and Mr. S. J. Salter; From New York: Philip Nettle, W. Sanford Evans and John T. Elliott; From St. Louis: Robert Moore, President of the St. Louis Society for Ethical Culture; Paul F. Coste, secretary; Mrs. N. C. Chapman, Mrs. L. Woodruff, Mrs. D. J. Donohue, Otto Teichman, Joseph Tausig, Albert Ainsworth, Mrs. W. E. Fischer, Mrs. Thelma Bernay. Other delegates and guests will arrive this evening and Friday.

When Lecturer William L. Sheldon of the St. Louis Society called the Congress to order the fashionable attire of the ladies present, the tasteful floral decorations and the flood of light that poured through the great windows, combined to produce a most striking effect. The hall was a study for an artist.

Just before 10 o'clock three large glass vases with flowers in them had been placed on the speaker's table, their deep purple and blue and white colors contrasting with the white of the speaker's dress.

At the table the lecturer, Sheldon, President Robert A. Moore and Secretary Paul F. Coste of the St. Louis Society for Ethical Culture, On either side of the speaker were seated the delegates and guests.

The welcome was accorded the visitors most heartily by President Moore. He outlined the work before the Congress as the discussion of ethical problems. For the first time, he stated, there would be no meetings, to consider questions concerning the educational and philanthropic work of the ethical societies.

The morning session was to be devoted to a public conference on the subject of "Woman's Influence on Public Affairs," and at the conclusion of President Moore's address Lecturer Sheldon introduced Mrs. Lydia Avery Coonley, President of the Chicago Woman's Club, whose address was on that theme.

Mrs. Coonley was greeted with applause. She is rather under medium height, her hair touched with gray. She read from a pamphlet by Edward Carpenter, "About Woman." After commenting upon some of its statements, she quoted from another author who said that women occupied themselves mostly on the streets by going into shop windows. This assertion had no lost its meaning, Mrs. Coonley said.

In the afternoon session, Mrs. Coonley was the first to speak. She had a long time in the great hall. Now her time was passed in the smaller hall where she addressed the women of the rich classes, while the men of that class paid no attention to it.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Coonley's address the afternoon session was closed. At that hour the delegates reassembled for the purpose of organization.

Before the afternoon session, Prof. Sheldon stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter that officers of the American Ethical Union, which he had been elected and that President Robert Moore of the St. Louis society would be the first to speak.

Owing to the illness of Prof. Felix Adler, the conference on "Work done within the Ethical Union," which was to have been held on Thursday night, was postponed until Friday night.

It was hardly to be expected that woman, so lately introduced to the public eye, should become an influence. But the farmer did not cease to sow his grain because his first planting failed to come up.

Woman had essentially a large, calm and receptive temperament. She was not a picture of a grander type of woman, of the primal merging into the future woman.

She saw an opportunity in a wider life. It was hardly to be expected that woman, so lately introduced to the public eye, should become an influence. But the farmer did not cease to sow his grain because his first planting failed to come up.

SCOTT JACKSON'S TRIAL.

Dr. Jenkins Says Pearl Was Not Dead Before Decapitation.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 23.—The court room was again crowded to its utmost capacity to-day at the continuation of the trial of Scott Jackson. Only about a half dozen women were among the spectators. The Bryan family, father, mother, sister and brothers of Pearl Bryan, were seated within the bar, near the attorney for the prosecution.

Attorney Crawford, for the defense, moved to strike out all that portion of Mayor Caldwell's testimony which contained Walling's statements to the Mayor of what defendant took the motion under advisement.

The first witness called was Dr. Jenkins, whose testimony was directed against the supposed defense that Pearl Bryan was dead before decapitation. His testimony was entirely opposed to that theory. He testified that he had seen the body of a person lying from any other cause than blood let-ting would congregate in from one to seven minutes, and that therefore in making or moving a body would be impossible to have emptied a dead body of blood as was Pearl Bryan's.

At the conclusion of the trial, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The court sentenced Scott Jackson to the state penitentiary for a term of years.

The trial of Scott Jackson has attracted considerable public interest in Newport, Kentucky, and the surrounding area. The case has been widely reported in the local press.

LEXINGTON, JUNE 3.

Date of Kentucky's Convention and Silver Men Are Kicking.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—The free coinage members of the Democratic State Executive Committee are up in arms to-day at the work of the committee last night.

They claim that the gold men, who were in the majority, have been tampered with by the committee, and that they have been tampered with by the committee, and that they have been tampered with by the committee.

The speaker said he respects to the present methods of feeding mankind, to the terrible course dinners, and to woman's method of doing things. He said that he respects to the present methods of feeding mankind, to the terrible course dinners, and to woman's method of doing things.

"We render them perfectly helpless," said she. "Why, we render them perfectly helpless," said she. "Why, we render them perfectly helpless," said she. "Why, we render them perfectly helpless," said she.

Woman's sphere hitherto had been the care of the household, the rearing of children, and the management of the family. She saw an opportunity in a wider life. It was hardly to be expected that woman, so lately introduced to the public eye, should become an influence.

With the enlargement of her sphere woman should extend her sense of her social obligations. During the war she had been in the public life of the country, and she had been in the public life of the country, and she had been in the public life of the country.

The underlying spirit of the club was the social spirit. This had brought woman a sense of her influence. In Chicago woman had been in the public life of the country, and she had been in the public life of the country, and she had been in the public life of the country.

Mrs. Wilmarth began her address by recounting the resources of society, the public resources, and the many advantages offered the masses. The trouble was that the masses got only to the game, and the resources were not to be used for the betterment of the masses.

Commenting upon this, Mrs. Wilmarth said that statistics showed that the number of colic cases among women were fewer from infantile diseases than those of any other class.

Mrs. Wilmarth concluded by saying that every woman should be interested in public affairs, since there can be nothing touching the public that does not affect private interests.

Mrs. Wilmarth was followed by Rev. William Short, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. He said he had expected a wider diversity of opinion than he had heard during the morning on the subject of woman's influence on public affairs.

William B. Davis, made on the steamer Idwilda, was held in a $300 bond by the United States Commissioner Gray Thursday. He had assaulted Ole West, a deckhand, at Cape Girardeau.

THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, April 23. Except that a freezing temperature is moving into the Northwest spring wheat belt, the weather conditions are, as they have been for several days, favorable for advancing the wheat crop.

The market record says the season, while some two weeks ahead of last year, is not so good as last year. The worst feature is there is too much unplowed land in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Considerable of North Dakota's farmers are expected to put in the full acreage of last year, and to make a record for the year's production of coarse grains was not successful, and a large portion of the land thus used last year will be left idle.

Receipts at winter wheat markets were small, only 5,000 bu. arriving here, against 11,000 bu. in the Northwest last year. The market is not so good as last year.

Cincinnati Price Current says the Ohio Valley localities still lack needed moisture. Valley Westward generally favorable. Average outlook for wheat is not improved. Last year's deficit could not be made up by better season's crop, but compared with average years.

INDIAN SCHOOLS POLICY.

The Senate Adopts Mr. Cockrell's Compromise Amendment.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—In the Senate yesterday, consideration of the Indian appropriation bill was resumed. Mr. Cockrell speaking in support of his amendment to allow two years for the change from sectarian to Government Indian schools.

Mr. Allen (Pop.) of Nebraska deprecated Mr. Cockrell's amendment. He said he was the son of a Protestant minister, but this did not lead him to approve of any proscription based on the religious associations of a citizen. He deplored the fact that the day of intolerance should be raised in the American Congress after Protestants and Catholics had for 120 years served together in the army and navy, in peace and war, in the advancement of the country. Mr. Allen spoke of the great work of the Catholic Church in carrying the torch of civilization in one hand and the gospel of Christ in the other.

Mr. Peffer believed the way to dispose of a hurtful policy was to abolish it. There was no reason for delay in doing away with sectarian schools.

The vote was then taken on the Cockrell amendment, declaring the policy of the Government against the sectarian schools, but allowing until 1936 for the entire change from sectarian to Government schools, and resulted in the adoption of the Cockrell amendment—yeas, 85; nays, 24.

A Homeless Tinker Without Food or Water for Eight Days.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 23.—Wm. Tenner, a homeless tinker, was found dying in a Lehigh Valley railroad freight car in Jersey City yesterday. For eight days he had been imprisoned in the car without food or water. His body was distorted by starvation and he was too weak to speak above a whisper. He was removed to St. Francis Hospital. Little hope is entertained for his recovery. He had been in the car since April 15, unable to let the train men know of his presence.

WALE'S DEBT TO HIRSCH.

It Is Said H. R. H. Owes the Baron's Estate $7,500,000.

LONDON, April 23.—Gossip has it that the Prince of Wales is hard hit by the death of Baron De Hirsch, as the Prince for years past has had the run of the Hirsch bank in London. The heir to the British throne is said to have borrowed $7,500,000 from the bank. It is believed, however, that this is an exaggeration, although the sum of the Prince's indebtedness may be very large. There is considerable curiosity to know how the claim of the Hirsch estate will be met. Baron De Hirsch fully expected to be honored by the Prince of Wales upon the latter's accession to the throne, and it is barely possible that he kept no record of the money so liberally lent.

A CORPSE FOR A QUARTER.

The Cold-Blooded Offer Made by a New Jersey Tramp.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
NEWARK, N. J., April 23.—"We'll sell you a corpse for a quarter," said one of three tramps to Thomas Williams on Frelinghuysen avenue last night.

Williams took the offer for a new sort of "bracket," and questioned the tramps. They said they had found a man hanging to a tree, and taking Williams for a doctor, thought he might want the body for dissecting purposes. About 200 feet from the avenue, on the Meadows, Williams found the body of a German about 35 years old, hanging by the neck to a limb of a willow tree. The suicide had wound a leather belt around his neck, then tied it to a limb so near the ground that his knees touched the soil, and he slowly strangled to death.

Pause and Consider.

Dissolving memories, dissolving views and dissolving moods are perpetuated by our little giant book of reference, the Post-Dispatch Almanac for 1934. It contains nothing but facts, hence, you should not jump at conclusions when there is a way to know everything and avoid mistakes by consulting the superior book of reference.
